SUGGESTIONS FOR STARTING A LOW VISION REHABILITATION PROGRAM IN HEALTH CARE USING OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

by Mary Warren PhD, OTR/L, SCLV, FAOTA

Based on the writer's experience in developing one of the first outpatient rehabilitation programs in the United States using occupational therapists to provide low vision rehabilitation. The book provides a practical, comprehensive guide to starting a low vision rehabilitation program.

Topics include:

- components of a low vision rehab program including the unique aspects of these programs
- determining the target population and program services
- marketing the program to potential referral sources
- establishing the rehab team: who should provide the service
- minimum staff competencies: evaluation and treatment techniques you should know
- documentation requirements: examples of forms, treatment plans and other necessary paperwork
- required equipment, supplies and clinic space
- reimbursement sources and billing
- working with referral sources to ensure satisfaction and continued referrals
- resources for equipment and staff education and training

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Mary Warren is Associate Professor of Occupational Therapy at the University of Alabama at Birmingham where she teaches graduate courses in low vision rehabilitation and provides clinical services in the UAB Center for Low Vision Rehabilitation. She was previously Director of Occupational Therapy for the Visual Independence Program, one of the first outpatient programs to receive Medicare reimbursement for low vision rehabilitation services. She is the editor of the Self Paced Clinical Study: Low Vision: Occupational Therapy Intervention with the Older Adult, published by the American Occupational Therapy Association in 2000 and authored the Occupational Therapy Guidelines for Adults with Low Vision for AOTA. Her research has been published in the American Journal of Occupational Therapy and she has contributed chapters to several rehabilitation textbooks including Occupational Therapy: Practice Skills for Physical Dysfunction, edited by Lorraine Pedretti. Her awards include the Cordelia Myer's Writer's Award from the American Occupational Therapy Association, the Award of Clinical Excellence from the Kansas Occupational Therapy Association, Outstanding Educator Award from the Missouri Occupational Therapy Association and the Healthsouth Rehabilitation Award for Clinical Excellence in Occupational Therapy from the American Occupational Therapy Foundation.

Regular retail price is $249, but for visABILITIES Rehab Services Low Vision course participants, past or present, a special discount rate of $125 is available.
